

Posted Saturday, December 15, 2007 1:23 PM

Checklist

Newsweek

Our top picks for the week

Buy "Twin Peaks," The Definitive Gold Box Edition ($70). Includes the original pilot, all 29 episodes, deleted scenes and other goodies in a crisp, remastered format. Break out the hot coffee and cherry pie and get ready for the Log Lady.

See "Lucian Freud: The Painter's Etchings" at New York's Museum of Modern Art. The exhibition showcases the full scope of the realist painter's etchings, from early experiments to more-complex portraitures (through March 10; mom.org).

Eat persimmons. These beautiful orange fruits have been arriving in markets across the country. Not quite sure what to do with them? The gardening site seedtosupper.com breaks down the varieties (firm-ripe vs. soft-ripe) and explains how to pick a delicious one and how to eat it.

Hear the new Magnus Lindberg Violin Concerto, written for and performed by violinist Lisa Batiashvili on her "Sibelius, Lindberg" CD ($16.95), or alone for $2.97 at iTunes.com. The Finnish composer's bracing sensuality is a treat for adventurous listeners.

Surf belahockey.com for a new line of girls' hockey gear and apparel. Cofounded by women's hockey legend Cammi Granato, the company's Web site also offers tips on how to get your own little Cammi started.